SAPD OFFERS FREE TRAINING OPPORTUNITY

STALKING: REMOVING THE FEAR

Lecture by Lt. Jon C. Correu

Wednesday, October 19th

2:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

San Antonio Public Library Auditorium
600 Soledad

In observance of October as Domestic Violence Awareness Month, the San Antonio Police Department's Victims Advocacy Program is sponsoring this free lecture, open to the public.

Stalking is a pattern of behaviors which are recognizable. Stalking is a behavior that terrorizes people whether young or old. People are often stalked by former partners, but stalkers can also be strangers. Everyone needs to know not only how to recognize it, but also what they can do about it.

In this training Lt. John Correu will address these and other concerns.

John Correu is a well known lecturer who is passionate about keeping individuals, families, and the country safe. He started his career as a dispatcher with the San Antonio Police Department. He is currently serving his 14th year with the Schertz Police Department and holds the rank of lieutenant. He holds a Master's Peace Officers license, a Bachelor of Arts degree in Criminal Justice, a Master of Public Administration and a Masters of Justice Policy from the University of Texas at San Antonio. He is in the dissertation phase of his PhD. in Business Administration specializing in Homeland Security.
